Blow the budget

There are some things in life that a girl just can't do without on her wedding day...

For a dress that is the ultimate in sophistication, choose this exquisite 'Kore' wedding gown, which is from the Elie by Elie Saab collection for Pronovias 2004. Made using embroidered ivory lace with beads, it will set you back approximately £6000 (UK prices vary). And, yes, we know this is a lot of money, but we think it's worth every penny.
